CLEARFIELD TO BE INDEPENDENT OF COUNTY SCHOOLS

The Clearfield school board at its meeting last evening laid the tax millage for the coming school year as follows:

|--------------|--------------|
| General fund | 14 mills     |
| School fund  | 4 1-2 mills  |
| Total        | 18 1-2 mills |

This is an increase of one and one-half mills over last year's tax rate, the increase being due entirely to the advancing cost of supplies, teachers' wages, etc.

In addition to the fixing of the millage the school board decided to take advantage of the provisions of the school code and create an independent school district for Clearfield.

This action means that our schools will be conducted independent of the county superintendent dealing direct with the state educational department. It makes it possible for the school district to have closer supervision of their schools and the qualifications of their teachers.

It is a progressive step contemplated by the School code for all school communities with 5000 population. The matter had been under consideration for some time and at last night's meeting following a report of the committee appointed to investigate the proposition it was unanimously decided to inaugurate the change.

Under the new departure it will be necessary to elect a district superintendent and this action will be taken at the next regular meeting of the school board on Tuesday evening next. The change will mean no increase in the expense of conducting the schools as the services will be named for the new position the only change being in his title which will be "District" instead of "City" Superintendent.

The school code provides that all independent school districts employing forty or more teachers may hold separate teachers institutes but the local district will not take advantage of this provision being content to participate in the county teachers' institute.

A 100 PER CENT FIRM

This afternoon a canvass of the employees of the Wm. F. Powell Hardware store and Pumping department, by H. W. Pigott resulted in a 100 per cent. subscription. Every employee of this firm has subscribed for a bond of the Third Liberty Loan. Let us hear of other 100 per cent. firms.

Willie Jackson of New York and Rock Kansas, the Buffalo scrapper, are scheduled to come together in Baltimore later this month in another effort to determine the question of their relative supremacy.

Miller's Antiseptic Oil, Known as

Snake Oil

Accomplishing most wonderful results

I want to thank you for your wonderful oil, states Mr. J. C. Gibson, of Jonesboro, Ark. My little girl was very low with diphtheria; I had given her two doses of medicine which cost me $20 with no results. I bought a 25c bottle of your oil and one application relieved her. Now she is well. It is the greatest remedy I ever saw. Mr. Gibson made this statement before hundreds of people. Mrs. Florence Meager, 224 Whitney St., Hartford, Conn., writes: "I have used your Antiseptic Oil for neuralgia with good effects. Only thing I have ever tried that stopped the pain immediately." Mrs. William G. Gadsden, Ala., writes: "I have used your great pain oil for rheumatism, stiff joints, also for sore throat, and I want to say that it is the greatest remedy I ever tried. I recommend it to all sufferers. Many cures reported daily from thousands of grateful users of this wonderful oil. Every bottle guaranteed 25c, 50c and $1.00 or money refunded. At Deely's Drug store."

Good Bye, Dad. I'm Off To Fight For Old Glory. You Buy U.S. GOV'T BONDS

THIRD LIBERTY LOAN

THE FARMER AND THE LIBERTY LOAN

Q. Can the farmer afford to buy Liberty Bonds?

A. Yes. The value of thirteen principal field crops for 1917 is two and a half times the average value of those crops—$10,692,861,000 against a five-year average (1911-15) of $4,939,142,000—and the value of all farm products, plant and animal, has increased in about the same proportion. The farmer has the money with which to buy Liberty Bonds and can afford it.

Q. Can the farmer afford NOT to buy Liberty Bonds?

A. No. There was exported last year $1,969,349,707 worth of farm products—almost twice the value of all farm products exported the year the European war began.

Q. But is that increase in American exports of farm products due to America's participation in the war?

A. Yes—directly and absolutely. If the United States, instead of declaring war against Germany, had submitted to Germany's demands, practically all American exports of farm products would have been shut off and the entire product of American farms have been bottled up in this country.

Q. Suppose the United States had been so craven as to submit to Germany's insulting terms as to shipments, been thus deprived of the right of sending its farm products abroad and forced to keep all the fruits of its fields at home, what would have been the consequence to the American farmer?

A. The supply of all kinds of farm products would have exceeded the demand. Prices would have gone down instead of up. Corn, cotton and other staple crops would have sold for less than the cost of production. For many crops, no market at all could have been found. Farmers who were in debt would have been unable to meet their notes and mortgages as they came due. Hundreds of thousands of farmers would have been absolutely ruined and all of them would have faced an era of stagnation and starvation prices such as has never been seen in this country.

Q. Then the farmers of the United States owe to this nation's participation in the war not only their present prosperity, but also their escape from a condition of poverty and privation?

A. Yes. If the United States had knuckled to Germany, the American farmer instead of enjoying unprecedented prosperity, would have faced almost unimagined misery.

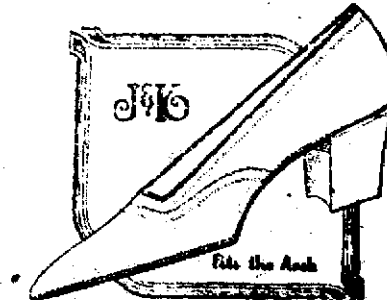

Q. You say "unprecedented prosperity" and "unprecedented misery." On what is that statement concretely based?

A. Well, what is selling now for $2 a bushel. The average price prior to 1914 was 57 cents a bushel. Corn is selling for $1.15 a bushel, against an anti-war average of 53 cents; cotton for nearly $140, against $30 a bale; tobacco for nearly $25, against $12 per hundred weight; potatoes for $1.25, against 40 cents per bushel, and so with all crops. If we had submitted to Germany's demand to stop sending our products across the ocean, large quantities of these commodities could not have been sold at all but would have rotted in the fields and the top price for wheat where it sold would not have been more than 50 cents a bushel, corn not more than 25 cents a bushel, cotton not more than $5 a hundred and tobacco not more than $1 a hundred.

Q. Then the farmer should buy Liberty Bonds to support the war because the war has given him prosperity and because Liberty Bonds constitute a sort of insurance policy for continued prosperity?

A. That is hardly the way to put it. The farmer should buy Liberty Bonds to support the war because buying Liberty Bonds is a part of his duty to his country. But, fortunately for him, the war has put him in such a condition of prosperity that he can buy Liberty Bonds without hurting himself. There is a scriptural injunction to give unto the Lord according as the Lord has prospered you. It applies to this phase of the cause of right just as thoroughly as any other.

BARNEY OLDFIELD'S RACING MACHINE, "GOLDEN SUBMARINE," BUILT LIKE AN EGG

UNIQUE RACER BUILT ESPECIALLY FOR OLDFIELD.

The ordinary racing car, because of its shape, creates air eddies and currents that force the car to push a mass of air along in front of it and pull along another mass in back of it by suction. It requires a certain amount of power to move these masses of air. This leaves less for the actual propulsion of the vehicle whose speed is correspondingly decreased. Hence greater speeds than ever before attained by racing automobiles should be made possible by the unusual egg-shaped body which Barney Oldfield, the famous automobile racer, had made for him. It is known as the "Golden Submarine." Except for the projecting hood over the engine, Oldfield's car is the nearest approximation to a perfect streamline body ever made. Even the pan under the engine is blended into the body in such a manner as to present as little surface as possible against the propulsion of the car through space. The body is completely inclosed and has none of the usual flat surfaces, and angles.

Automobile makers have learned much from the airplane builder concerning the construction of bodies that part the air easily and so cut down wind resistance.

HINTS ON CAR LUBRICATION

Not Enough Attention Is Given to Matter by Drivers of Machines—
Drain the Crank Case.

(By H. L. THOMSON, Oklahoma Experiment Station)

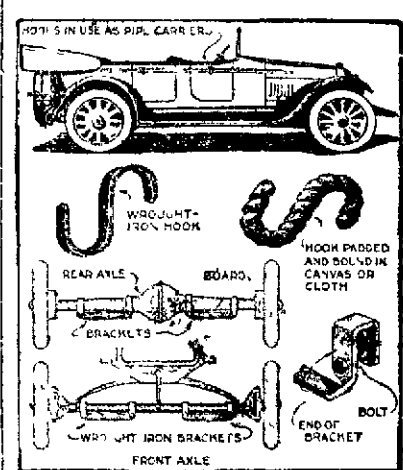

Not enough attention is given by drivers of automobiles to the changing of the lubricating oil in the crank case. Fresh oil is poured in the crank case from time to time, but no thought is given to what happens to this oil. The oil breaks down into gum and carbon as it wears out, neither of which will lubricate. Pouring fresh oil into this mixture simply dilutes it. There is also water, which will separate from oil into the bottom of the crank case, as well as dirt and material which will have a tendency to clog up the strainer of the oil pump and cause serious trouble.

Once in every 2,000 miles the crank case should be drained of oil and the oil strainer cleaned. A gallon of kerosene is put in and engine run for about a minute, and the kerosene drained off. It is surprising how black and dirty this kerosene will be, and what dirt it will bring out with it. Then when fresh oil is put in the crank case the engine has a clean oil. Under such treatment the bearings will stand up for a long time without taking up. The wear on the whole internal mechanism of the motor will be much less. In addition to this the driver will save many dollars in fuel bills. Friction is greatly increased on the inside of the engine when carbon and gum are present in the lubricant, and it will take more power to run an engine, and the engine will have less power to drive the car. Changing the oil as often as this is apparently an expensive procedure, but really is the cheapest insurance for long life that the engine can have.

HAULING BRACKETS ON AUTO

These Devices Are Useful in Carrying Pipes, Ladders, Poles and Similar Articles.

Two simple methods of adapting an automobile quickly for business purposes are shown in the sketch, writes G. A. Jones of Washington, D. C., in Popular Mechanics. The S-shaped wrought-iron hooks, padded in cloth or canvas, are used by a plunger to con-

Metal Parts Will Rust.

If you have detachable wheels, remember that the metal parts may rust. The only way to keep a wheel clean is to use a fine spray from an atomizer and are used in the composition of such cleaners is an oily chemical which coats each particle of dirt and mud so thoroughly that it is rendered harmless and cannot scratch the surface of the car.

BEAUTIFUL AND NOVEL WINDOW DISPLAYS SEEN

Some of the most striking window trimming that our shoppers have seen for many a month was recently and is not being shown by Leitzinger Bros. and Leonardson & Co.

At Leitzinger Bros. the west window was tastefully trimmed with women's suits and hats and the color scheme was something wonderful; the harmony was perfect and the whole made an array of beauty that is seldom seen outside of cities many times the size of Clearfield. In the east window about every style and model of Spring footwear was shown and the faultless arrangement showed off the lines in the most artistic way. Both of these windows were the work of Frank Garrahan who has been trimming Shapiro's windows for some time.

J. W. Oxley who trimmed the windows for the Leonardson store had two windows that were little short of the wonderful. The motif of the trim was dress goods and the draping was as graceful as it was clever. However Mr. Oxley has so far outdone anything that he has ever shown in his present Liberty Loan window that it eclipses everything.

Miss Columbia is shown in the center of the window with a drawn sword in one hand and in the other she is using a shield with the words "THIRD LIBERTY LOAN" inscribed thereon.

On the right and left there are pictures of Haig and Pershing and in the foreground are cartoons depicting scenes "over there" and what might take place if the Hun wins the war. The background as we would naturally expect is "Old Glory" and patriotism is not only the key-note but jumps right out of the window, so to speak.

Mr. Oxley is to be congratulated on his efforts not only as a window trimmer but for the spirit behind the window.

FROM DUBOIS EXPRESS TWENTY YEARS AGO

The Spanish-American situation is regarded as more grave by Washington today than ever before. All Americans have been ordered out of Cuba by Saturday. The government is rushing work on the boats it has under construction and arming others. General Lee is expected to leave the missing link of the Maine inquiry and that will settle the matter.

The railroad company of 51 railroads will offer their services to the government in case of necessity. The government's late report shows 6,000 men capable of bearing arms and about to military service in the country.

The condition is serious. In order to prevent a further spread of this loathsome disease it is imperative that every body gets vaccinated. Go to your physicians at once and get vaccinated. By so doing you will be free from the danger of acquiring this frightful scourge which is in your midst.

Should there be a further spread drastic measures will have to be instituted to control the situation.

OBITUARY

LILLIAN MAY WALL

Lillian May Wall was born February 9, 1910, and passed from earth March 28, 1918. She was with us only 8 years 1 month and 19 days. She came into the world at the cost of a mother's life. How after but a few years on earth she has gone away. What has she left for us? Much, very much. How much, who can tell. This young life has directly or indirectly, touched and affected the lives of grandmother, father, brothers and sisters as well as other old and young who have come in contact with her in home and school and play and left its influence for all time.

Bright, intelligent quick of temper and quick to learn at school generous and thoughtful, especially of her grandmother surely her life has not been without its beauty and value. Soon after she got sick, Lillian told her grandmother she was going away after awhile—away off. This has seemed prophetic of her passing from earth. Her going has left an ache in our hearts.

AN OLD RECIPE TO DARKEN HAIR

Sage Tea and Sulphur Turns Gray, Faded Hair Dark and Glossy

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home which is sure and trouble some.

Many ask at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You will get a large bottle of this old time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients for about 50 cents. Everybody uses this preparation now, because no one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair as it does it so naturally and evenly. You da pen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair taking one small at and at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick, and glossy and you look years younger. Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful toilet requisite. It is not merely for the hair, but for the scalp.

LETTERS FROM OUR SOLDIER BOYS

LETTER FROM ED. HEVENER

Somewhere in France

Dear Mother:
No doubt you will be very much surprised on receiving this. We are somewhere in France but are not allowed to disclose the name of the town. I certainly hope you are all well at home, as for me I can't remember of ever feeling so good in my life.

Now don't worry about me for we are taken good care of and have very good food.

It is best that we say nothing of this country over here, so I'll refrain until I get back home.

Good bye, love to all,

Worth Fighting For

SHALL this little girl grow up in the sort of American home we know, healthy and happy? Shall she have the advantage of living and learning in a free land, under free institutions? Shall such children develop into the Liberty-loving citizens that a free America may be proud of?

For over two hundred years Americans have fought valiantly, and died gallantly, to win for themselves and hand down to their posterity the blessings of liberty, justice, self-government and equal opportunity. This precious heritage, bought at so great a price, is now threatened.

The question which today confronts America as a nation, and you as an individual, is whether or not a free America is worth fighting for

Are American children in this and all future generations to receive unimpaired the legacy of freedom of which we are now the custodians, or shall their country be turned over bodily to the brutal, rapacious, power-mad enemy which has forced us into this war?

This question cannot be answered by word of mouth, but by deeds alone.

LACES FOR SPRING

Afternoon Dresses and Lingerie Frocks to Be Worn.

American Loom Products Are Now
Taking the Place of Weaves That
Were Formerly Imported.

Lace afternoon dresses and lingerie frocks are to be worn this spring, according to some indications. At an exhibition held recently some of the most attractive gowns made from or in combination with American-made laces were shown.

The adaptability of the American manufacturer was here very clearly demonstrated, for the laces included most of the best known varieties—cluny, venise, net and fillet.

As to the gowns, they could honestly be called successful. One especially attractive model had a one-sided draped waist which showed the lace under and over the chiffon which was used for the gown.

Lingerie dresses are in flesh colored and pale tinted fabrics, and tinted as well as white laces are used with them —also little insects of embroidery for summer wear are the voiles and tinted voiles, with soutache braiding in patterns which are conventional in design for the most part, no matter how much ground they may cover.

For frother frocks and street wear in general, are frocks of silk jersey, some of which show a clever use of flat braid, applied closely in rows. Dark blue, taupe and black are the usual colors, and the braiding usually matches rather than contrasts with the dress. - Button-up-the-back dresses, wide braided girdles and models with high collars are new or old features of this season's gowns, just as you choose to look at it.

Pongee was used for a spring suit, which was embellished with braiding and further boasted of a dotted foul-ard vest, with the conventional points in the front. The braiding ran up and down both sides of the front and around on the skirt part of the coat. In spite of all this decoration the colors matched exactly except for the white spots on the vest, and the simple lines helped to give the desired air of simplicity.

Midnight blue satin was the material chosen for a three-piece suit which was cut with a short bodied off Eton jacket and wide sleeves cut off at the wrists. The robe was used again for the top of the trousers, which were straight up and down and collarless. Cuffs and collar on the jacket wore of peacock blue, and even with this costume was a hat covered with peacock feathers.

They say, who have come back from Over There, that at night the troubled earth between the lines is carpeted with pain. Then say that Death rides whistling in every wind, and that the very mists are charged with awful torment. They say that of all things spent and squandered there, young human life is held least dear. It is not the pleasantest prospect for those of us who yet can feel upon our lips the pressure of mother's good bye kiss. But, please God, our good bye kiss. But, please God, our love of life is not so prized as love of right. In this renaissance of our country's valor, we who will edge the wedge of her assault make calm acceptance of its hazards. For us the

DENOMINATIONAL HARMONY IS ON THE PROGRAM

New York, April 10. A closer unity and cooperation of the Protestant Episcopal church with other denominations during the war is likely to result from action to be taken at the annual meeting of the House of Bishops of the Episcopal church, which opened in this city today. An appeal for such unity, and especially for a joint consecration of chaplains for army and navy, is to be presented to the convention, with the indorsement of Bishop Tuttle, the presiding bishop of the Episcopal church in the United States. The appeal was signed by a hundred representatives of the principal religious bodies in America. The sponsors of the movement also suggest that possibly besides sending chaplains with full religious authorization from both the Episcopal and non-Episcopal churches, a common fund might be provided by contributions from all the churches for the equipment of every chaplain with whatever he may need for service, without regard to the particular denomination from which he may come.

The bishop in attendance at the convention, including practically all of the high prelates of the Episcopal church in the United States have been invited to attend a banquet to be given by the Episcopal church club of New York at the Waldorf-Astoria tonight in honor of the Rt. Rev. Cosmo Gordon Lang, Archbishop of York and Primate of England, who is now paying his first visit to America. Bishop Groer of the New York diocese will preside at the banquet and there will be addresses by Bishop Tuttle, President Nicholas Murray Butler of Columbia University and others.

SAILOR WITH SHIRRED BRIM

Spring hats are usually the most charming and the most simple. This sailor with a black satin crown and the white shirred brim make an irresistible combination. The white satin buttons on the side of the crown are the only trimmings, and they are sufficient for the hat could not be daintied.

Frisivious Hats.

With her costumes in dark colors,
the Parisienne is wearing a hat of some frivivous shade, and a soft rose is first in favor.

These hats are made of velvet; the material is shirred on the brim, sometimes with long silk stitches which show plainly. The crowns are unusually high and the trimming of the simplest.

They are worn so far down on the head that they completely cover the eyebrows.

STOMACH UPSET?

Get at the Real Cause—Take Dr.
Edwards' Olive Tablets

That's what thousands of stomach sufferers are doing now. Instead of taking tonics, or trying to patch up a poor digestion, they are attacking the real cause of the ailment—clogged liver
and disordered bowels.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets arouse the liver in a soothing, healing way. When the liver and bowels are performing their natural functions, away goes indigestion
and stomach troubles.

If you have a bad taste in your mouth, tongue coated, appetite poor, lazy, don't-care feeling, no ambition or
energy, troubled with undigested foods,
you should take Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. You will know them by their olive color. They do the work without causing cramps or pain.

Take one or two at bedtime for quick

CLEANING THE MEDICINE CLOSET

The medical temperance department of the National W. C. T. U. has been on small factor in cleaning Uncle Sam's medicine closet. The superintendent of this department, Mrs. Martin M. Ab-len of New York, thus describes the
process:

"When we started in to clean the medicine chest of the great United States, the chest was a dreadful sight.
Whisky, port wine, sherry wine, beer to give strength, brandy and gin for certain ailments all stood in proud array
on prominent shelves.

"To attempt to clean up such a medicine chest was a task sufficient to ap-pell stout hearts. But a few brave souls said the task should be done, and gradually, surely, the cleaning has been going on. Some of the best physicians of the country aided in the task. Soon
the whisky bottle for the consumptive was thrown away, then the brandy for the typhoid fever patient. Beer and wine were swept off the shelf by the aid of athletes who had proved that these drinks weaken instead of giving strength. Whisky for pneumonia was the next to go, and finally the American Medical association swept off the last remaining bottle of alcohol as unnecessary in the treatment of any disease."

GENERAL PERSHING ON PROHIBITION

In an address before the National
W. C. T. U. convention, Dr. Anna
Howard Shaw gave direct testimony
as to the attitude of General Pershing
on prohibition.

"I had the pleasure of meeting this great hero last spring in San Antonio, Texas," she said, "The citizens gave me a banquet, and among the honored guests was General Pershing. When he was called on from town, they great leader of the army stood up and pronounced himself a confirmed believer
in the enfranchisement of women, and in prohibition. After he had taken his seat and the program had been concluded, General Pershing said to
by some of his Texas friends, 'Prohibition is an unpopular subject in Texas. We are not in favor of it.'
The general replied, 'So long as I am at the head of the army I shall speak of prohibition.' But go slow in this matter," they said. General Pershing responded, 'I shall not go slow on prohibition, for I know what is the greatest foe to my men, greater even than the bullets of the enemy.'"

FAMOUS HOTEL AT BEDFORD IS SOLD

Bedford, April 6.—Frederick A.
Metzger and Dr. L. D. Blackwelder,
two prominent Bedford business men,
this week purchased from Mrs. Mary
E. Alsip and H. O. Hafer the old Bedford House, known as a famous hostel for many years and which, in its earlier days, entertained such famous personages as President George Washington, President James Buchanan, and Captain John Brown, the abolitionist. The latter was a guest there shortly before the beginning of the Civil War and was on his way, by
"underground route" to Harper's Ferry. The hotel had been owned since the death of the proprietor, Charles
Hafer, several years ago.

It was erected in 1771 by the Rev.
William Smith, pastor of St. Peter's Church, Philadelphia, who was first provost and founder of the University of Pennsylvania and founder of the town of Huntingdon. The old Franklin stoves and four English hand-carved mantels, of quaint design and fine
workmanship, are still in place.
Messrs. Metzger and Blackwelder
have not made public their intentions
regarding the future but they have offered the building for the use of the army men driving government trucks
over the Highway, the local Emergency Aid to be in charge.

It is no easy matter to find a location for the proposed Willard-Pullon
match, since the limit for boxing bouts ranges from six to fifteen rounds in nearly all states where the game is permitted.

HINDENBURG'S RENEWED EFFORTS ON BELGIUM FRONT MAY MEAN BIG DRIVE

ATTEMPT TO FORCE SPLIT IN BRITISH LINES IS PART OF PLAN TO DRIVE ALLIED LINE TO NORTH SEA POSITIONS

ACTIVITIES ON TWENTY MILE FRONT IS MARKED BY BRINGING INTO VIEW OLD BATTLE-SCARRED CITIES

ENGLISH HOLD RIVER STRONGHOLDS

Hindenburg's frenzied efforts to split the British line in Flanders and push the northern flank back to the North Sea appeared on its way into Belgium today along a twenty mile front.

Haig reported fighting which broke out early yesterday continuing between the La Bassée canal on the Lys river, while the British positions as far north as the Ypres-Comiens canal were under desperate bombardment. The Belgian front crosses the battle front on a sharp bend in the Lys River to the north of Armentieres. Between La Bassée and Armentieres Haig said the British are holding the Lys and Lave rivers. The latter streams lay north of Bethune converging with the Lys at La Gorgue less than a mile west of Espaires. The Lys flows eastward, meandering across through Armentieres.

The British troops, according to their commanders, are desperately holding Espaires and Bac-Saint-Maur, 3 miles northeast of Espaires. Fighting already has broken out north of Armentieres and the new flank is under bombardment, indicating the Germans are losing no time in following up their cannonading with infantry assaults. Thus the actual fighting has been turned northward into Belgium, probably as far as the famous town of Elousteert, three miles north of Armentieres. Other towns now famous by the war that will probably figure in this fighting are Hallebeke on the Ypres-Comiens canal and Messines.

HAIG'S REPORT

By United Press

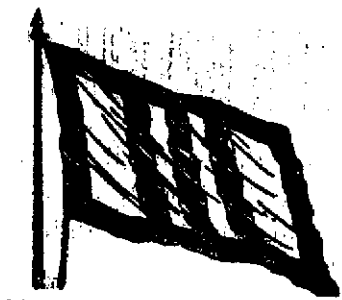

London April 10.—Heavy fighting continued north of La Bassée canal yesterday evening and last night. Field Marshal Haig reported today the British are holding desperately along the Lys and Lave rivers. A counter attack on the south flank resulted in the recapture of Givenchy by the British. Fighting continued north of La Bassée yesterday evening and last night the statement said. We are holding the line on the rivers Lys and Lave and are engaging the enemy at Espaires and Bac-Saint-Maur. On the southern flank Givenchy was recaptured in a successful counter attack. We took 750 prisoners. East and north of Armentieres as far as the Ypres-Comiens canal there was heavy hostile bombardment early this morning with fighting on the southern portion of this flank.

THE FRENCH REPORT

Paris, April 10.—Great mutual artillery firing along a wide front held by the French and American troops south of Verdun and east of St. Mehl was reported by the French war office today.

Along the left bank of the Meuse in Arremont forest in the region of Filly there was great mutual artillery firing the statement said. The Meuse runs northward along St. Mehl and Verdun. It is in this sector that American troops took over additional trenches to release French forces for the battle in Picardy. Northwest of Theims (in the Chemin-Des-Dames region where American troops are) successful raids resulted in the taking of some prisoners. Northeast of Mont Renaud we took some prisoners. The Germans attacked in the region of Hangard-En-Verdun but we finally retained the villages and cemetery. West of Catel and Suzoy in the neighborhood of Meruill the Germans were defeated with sanguinary losses.

LET'S WIN ONE FOR CLEARFIELD LIBERTY LOAN HONOR FLAG

THE HONOR FLAG

The honor flag of the third Liberty Loan is awarded by the United States Treasury Department to every town in the country which sells more than its quota of Liberty Bonds in the present campaign.

Every town which wins the right to fly this flag will have its name inscribed on the State honor roll under a State honor flag, to be unfurled at the State Capitol.

The results in each State will be indicated on a national honor flag, which will be raised in the Treasury Department in Washington and remain there permanently.

When you buy a third Liberty Loan Bond you will receive a window card bearing your name and a reproduction of the honor flag. Paste this card in a window of your home or place of business.

The bonds of the third Liberty Loan are an investment in the United States of America. They are a direct promise to pay back, with interest, the money that you invest. This promise of the United States is the safest investment on earth.

The difference between $100 tucked away in your home and $100 invested in third Liberty Loan Bonds is that if you keep the $100 in currency at the end of the year $100 is all you have, but if you buy a $100 bond of the third Liberty Loan, at the end of the year you have the $100 bond and the interest.

You should buy Liberty Bonds because our sons and our neighbors are making our fight abroad. Victory depends largely on whether they are supplied with sufficient guns, ammunition and other necessities to win, and their condition upon returning depends upon the care which is taken of them in and out of the lines.

It is up to us to supply money for the sinews of war and every comfort that can be given our fighting men. They offer their lives for us and our country.

We are only asked to lend our money to our Government. Could we do less and remain true to ourselves, our country, and our flag?

TAR AND FEATHERS FOR WASHINGTON I. W. S.

(By United Press)

Aberdeen, Wash., April 10.—Six I. W. S. leaders were seized in their rooms here today by members of a vigilance committee, taken out into the country, and tarred and feathered. Then they were ordered to leave this vicinity. Five other I. W. S. members were forced to kiss the flag and swear allegiance to it.

A number of the members of the Society of Friends (Quakers) are visiting in Clearfield and a meeting for worship will be held this evening at the home of George T. Underwood, on Walnut street at eight o'clock. A whether members or not, who may feel interested should attend and be made very welcome.

New York theatrical producers are reported to be paying fabulously high salaries to chorus girls owing to their scarcity.

SHOULD FIND A WAY TO COMBAT SMALLPOX

Vaccination Of Imported Labor Before Allowing Them To Enter County Would Help

SOMETHING MUST BE DONE

With the possibility of a small pox epidemic at Woodland in a fair way to become a reality, it behooves the health authorities of Clearfield to redouble their vigilance to prevent a possible spread of the disease to our town.

This loathsome disease was brought to Woodland by colored men recruited in the south for work at the brickyard and already five cases have developed. Aside from our proximity to the infected district the public health of Clearfield is endangered by the large number of these workmen brought here to work at the Harbison-Walker plant in the Fourth ward. We are told on very good authority that within the past week or two more than two hundred colored men gathered from the different sections of the far south, regardless of health, many other regulations and while we suppose it is necessary to employ such labor to keep our industries going during these strenuous times, and that the company is within its rights in doing so, at the same time some little regard should be paid to the public health, and every precaution should be taken to avoid and prevent the spread of possible infection due to the influx of these people.

We make this observation on the principle that an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure.

At the present time there seems to be no health regulation either state or local that will reach or remedy this condition and it is the purpose of this article to point out to the local health authorities their responsibility in the premises with the hope that our wide-awake and up to date board of health will take the necessary action or devise the means to reduce the menace of a small pox epidemic here by establishing a hard and fast rule relative to the vaccination of these people before or immediately upon their arrival in Clearfield.

We are told that at least one of the men found to be suffering with small pox in this section as placed on the train in the south while sick and that smallpox patches were visible at the time all over his face. That the southern employer of labor is very much alarmed at the attracting of his labor to the north and is trying by every means to put an end to it, even to leading men suffering with small pox and other diseases into these armies of colored men gathered through the south for the express purpose of spreading epidemics in the hope that the northern communities will rise up in their wrath and as a measure of protection and self-preservation prevent such wholesale transportation of men into their communities.

The State Health authorities have been appealed to in the matter many times from all over the state where the practice is in force and in the absence of a state law covering the corporations engaged in this business to at least see that every man transported is successfully vaccinated.

On account of the character of the southern employment of labor, vaccination is impossible before the men are started from their place of origin and it is up to the local Board of Health to act in the matter and to see that these men on their arrival in Clearfield should be segregated and

TWENTY MEN GO TO CAMP LEE WEEK OF 26TH

Next Contingent From This District Light Owing To Credit Due To Last Big Call

LIST OF THOSE WHO WILL GO

There will be 8,811 men sent to Camp Lee, of which 6,197 will come from the Eastern Pennsylvania counties tributary to Camp Meade, and 2,614 from Camp Lee territory. These will all be white men.

Camp Meade will get 1,296 white men and 1,014 colored men from its own territory.

Camp Sherman will get 333 from Western Pennsylvania.

The quota for Clearfield county is as follows:—District No. 1 (Clearfield), 20; No. 2 (DuBois), 15; No. 3 (Ossola), 20.

ENTERTAINED SEWING CLUB

Mr. John H. Moore entertained the Priscilla Sewing club and the bus-bands last night at her home on South Second street. A most delightful evening was spent by those present. The hostess served a delicious lunch at a late hour.

Mr. Rohman who has been visiting at the home of John Forsyth left this morning for his home in Boston. He was accompanied as far as Philadelphia by Mr. Forsyth.

Logan Cramer who has been in the hospital suffering from a shot wound was brought to the home of Mr. Cramer and Mrs. T. A. Cramer on Sixth street today.

Pennsylvania has nearly 500 women physicians.

Immediately vaccinated and kept in detention quarters for a period sufficiently long to prevent all possible spread of the disease if any among them are found to be suffering from small pox or other contagious infection.

Something should be done in this matter and that at once. A stitch in time may save an epidemic.

BULLETIN

By Wm. Phillip Simms

With The British Army In France, April 10.—The first Americans have arrived on the British front, including infantry, airmen and engineers.

General Pershing conferring with General Foch on the front March 28, placed the entire American expeditionary force at the disposal of the allies. A few days later staff correspondents with the American army on the Toul front reported a great portion of the troops leaving that section for the Picardy front. The roads in that portion of France were blocked by moving men and equipment.

THIRD LOAN WILL MOST CERTAINLY BE OVER-SUBSCRIBED BY PATRIOTS

By United Press

Washington, April 10.—The Liberty Loan drive continues today at top speed. Any doubt that the three billion minimum would be over subscribed has vanished. The campaign is now developing into a run for a tremendous start. Secretary McAdoo speaking at Raleigh urged the nation to triple or quadruple the three billion loan into thirty million individual subscriptions.

Telegrams pouring from federal reserve districts said the "quotas have been lost sight of" and that efforts were made only for over-subscription. Boston is to be canvassed today by 7,500 Liberty Loan solicitors. Seventy-one Canadian officers have been released by the British government to stamp the United States and 120 American officers loaned by the war department will do likewise. Forty-five communities today were officially announced to be tied for the honor of being the first in the land to complete their quota. They reported over subscriptions shortly after nine o'clock Saturday morning.

MR. AVERAGE CITIZEN--DO YOU PRODUCE AS MUCH AS YOU CONSUME

Modern Society Founded on Principle of Co-operative Effort of All.

WE DEPEND ON EACH OTHER

Simple Lesson in Economics Proves That Industry is the Source of Necessities, Comforts and Luxuries. Individual Must Oust to Organization.

Can you picture an average American family getting a table in the average American home about to purchase of the average American family? It is a familiar scene. The table is the table covered with its white cloth, the utensils come from porcelain, steel, glass and silver, and there is the food—bread and butter, milk, tea or coffee, salt and pepper, sugar, meat, vegetables, fruit, etc. But scarcely anything there is the direct result of the labor of any person who sits about that table.

When you sit down to a meal do you ever think who provided it? Do you ever know, in most cases, where the different components of that meal came from? Did the salt and the pepper drop as manna from heaven? Did the wax of the cotton which forms the tablecloth grow upon the home place? Were the fibers spun into yarn by your housekeeper, and was the cloth woven on the household loom? Did you rear the animal which supplied the meat for the repast? Did the fruit come from your orchard? Are the milk and the butter the products of your cow? Who delved into the earth for the silver, the steel, the lead, the clay which have been used to make up the utensils necessary for your most simple meal? And who changed those raw products into the knives and forks and dishes you use?

No thoughtful man can consider such questions without being tremendously impressed with the utter dependence of even the most independent man in our present civilization upon the co-operation of hundreds of thousands of his fellow men whom he has never met and probably never heard of, largely engaged in some occupation different from his own and scattered about, not only all over his own country, but many of them located in far distant parts of the earth.

It makes no difference what vocation a man follows. He may be a farmer and cause two blades of grass to grow where only one grew before. He may be a manufacturer, a retail merchant, a mechanic or a banker—no matter what he is, he depends for his very existence, not only upon those who till the soil and deal in its products, but also and to the same extent upon the great organizations of manufacture, transportation, communication and finance which are scattered about all

AUTO AND CANDY MAKING HARD HIT BY NEW RULING

Washington, April 10.—The government's policy toward the nation's industries was established today with the completion of a new priority order by the War Industry Board. The purpose of the order is to provide vital industries with fuel and the transportation necessary. Automobile and candy manufacturers are hard hit by the ruling. No provision is made in the priority list for such industries to receive fuel or transportation facilities until the vital needs have been supplied. This ruling does not apply, however, to those portions of the plants engaged in special work for which fuel provisions are made. The government order virtually puts the country's industries under federal control.

LARGEST CASUALTY LIST ISSUED

By United Press

SMALL MEXICAN RAID

Fort Hancock, Texas, April 10.—United States troops and Mexican bandits engaged in a skirmish along the Rio Grande river, according to reports received here today. The bandits attempted to cross the river to raid some American hamlets and villages.

CLEARFIELD TO BE INDEPENDENT OF COUNTY SCHOOLS

The Clearfield school board at its meeting last evening laid the tax millage for the coming school year as follows:

|              |              |
|--------------|--------------|
| General fund | 14 mills     |
| School fund  | 4 1-2 mills  |
| Total        | 18 1-2 mills |

This is an increase of one and one-half mills over last year's tax rate, the increase being due entirely to the advancing cost of supplies, teachers wages, etc.

In addition to the fixing of the millage the school board decided to take advantage of the provisions of the school code and create an independent school district for Clearfield.

This action means that our schools will be conducted independent of the county superintendent dealing direct with the state educational department. It makes it possible for the school district to have closer supervision of their schools and the qualifications of their teachers.

It is a progressive step contemplated by the School code for all school communities with 5000 population. The matter had been under consideration for some time and at last night's meeting following a report of the committee appointed to investigate the proposition it was unanimously decided to inaugurate the change.

Under the new departure it will be necessary to elect a district superintendent and this action will be taken at the next regular meeting of the school board on Tuesday evening next. The change will mean no increase in the expense of conducting the schools as the services will be named for the new position the only change being in his title which will be "District" instead of "City" Superintendent.

The school code provides that all independent school districts employing forty or more teachers may hold separate teachers institutes but the local district will not take advantage of this provision being content to participate in the county teachers' institute.

A 100 PER CENT FIRM

Now she is well. It is the greatest remedy I ever saw. Mr. Gibson made this statement before hundreds of people. Mrs. Florence Meager, 224 Whitney St., Hartford, Conn., writes: "I have used your Antiseptic Oil for neuralgia with good effects. Only thing I have ever tried that stopped the pain immediately." Mrs. William Gadsden, Ala., writes: "I have used your great pain oil for rheumatism, stiff joints, also for sore throat, and I want to say that it is the greatest remedy I ever tried. I recommend it to all sufferers. Many cures reported daily from thousands of grateful users of this wonderful oil. Every bottle guaranteed 25c, 50c and $1.00 or money refunded. ## Good Bye, Dad. I'm Off To Fight For Old Glory. You Buy U.S. GOV'T BONDS

THIRD LIBERTY LOAN

THE FARMER AND THE LIBERTY LOAN

Q. Can the farmer afford to buy Liberty Bonds?

A. Yes. The value of thirteen principal field crops for 1917 is two and a half times the average value of those crops—$10,692,861,000 against a five-year average (1911-15) of $4,939,142,000—and the value of all farm products, plant and animal, has increased in about the same proportion. The farmer has the money with which to buy Liberty Bonds and can afford it.

Q. Can the farmer afford NOT to buy Liberty Bonds?

A. No. There was exported last year $1,969,349,707 worth of farm products—almost twice the value of all farm products exported the year the European war began.

Q. But is that increase in American exports of farm products due to America's participation in the war?

A. Yes—directly and absolutely. If the United States, instead of declaring war against Germany, had submitted to Germany's demands, practically all American exports of farm products would have been shut off and the entire product of American farms have been bottled up in this country.

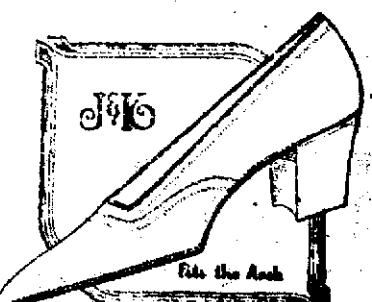

Q. Suppose the United States had been so craven as to submit to Germany's insulting terms as to shipments, been thus deprived of the right of sending its farm products abroad and forced to keep all the fruits of its fields at home, what would have been the consequence to the American farmer?

A. The supply of all kinds of farm products would have exceeded the demand. Prices would have gone down instead of up. Corn, cotton and other staple crops would have sold for less than the cost of production. For many crops, no market at all could have been found. Farmers who were in debt would have been unable to meet their notes and mortgages as they came due. Hundreds of thousands of farmers would have been absolutely ruined and all of them would have faced an era of stagnation and starvation prices such as has never been seen in this country.

BARNEY OLDFIELD'S RACING MACHINE, "GOLDEN SUBMARINE," BUILT LIKE AN EGG

UNIQUE RACER BUILT ESPECIALLY FOR OLDFIELD.

The ordinary racing car, because of its shape, creates air eddies and currents that force the car to push a mass of air along in front of it and pull along another mass in back of it by suction. It requires a certain amount of power to move these masses of air. This leaves less for the actual propulsion of the vehicle whose speed is correspondingly decreased. Hence greater speeds than ever before attained by racing automobiles should be made possible by the unusual egg-shaped body which Barney Oldfield, the famous automobile racer, had made for him. It is known as the "Golden Submarine." Except for the projecting hood over the engine, Oldfield's car is the nearest approximation to a perfect streamline body ever made. Even the pan under the engine is blended into the body in such a manner as to present as little surface as possible against the propulsion of the car through space. The body is completely inclosed and has none of the usual flat surfaces, and angles.

Automobile makers have learned much from the airplane builder concerning the construction of bodies that part the air easily and so cut down wind resistance.

HINTS ON CAR LUBRICATION

Not Enough Attention Is Given to Matter by Drivers of Machines—
Drain the Crank Case.

(By H. L. THOMSON, Oklahoma Experiment Station)

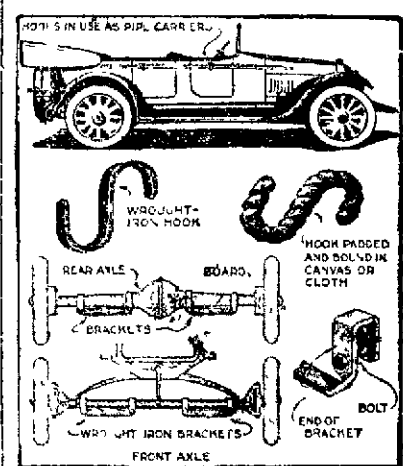

Not enough attention is given by drivers of automobiles to the changing of the lubricating oil in the crank case. Fresh oil is poured in the crank case from time to time, but no thought is given to what happens to this oil. The oil breaks down into gum and carbon as it wears out, neither of which will lubricate. Pouring fresh oil into this mixture simply dilutes it. There is also water, which will separate from oil into the bottom of the crank case, as well as dirt and material which will have a tendency to clog up the strainer of the oil pump and cause serious trouble.

Once in every 2,000 miles the crank case should be drained of oil and the oil strainer cleaned. A gallon of kerosene is put in and engine run for about a minute, and the kerosene drained off. It is surprising how black and dirty this kerosene will be, and what dirt it will bring out with it. Then when fresh oil is put in the crank case the engine has a clean oil. Under such treatment the bearings will stand up for a long time without taking up. The wear on the whole internal mechanism of the motor will be much less. In addition to this the driver will save many dollars in fuel bills. Friction is greatly increased on the inside of the engine when carbon and gum are present in the lubricant, and it will take more power to run an engine, and the engine will have less power to drive the car. Changing the oil as often as this is apparently an expensive procedure, but really is the cheapest insurance for long life that the engine can have.

HAULING BRACKETS ON AUTO

These Devices Are Useful in Carrying Pipes, Ladders, Poles and Similar Articles.

Two simple methods of adapting an automobile quickly for business purposes are shown in the sketch, writes G. A. Jones of Washington, D. C., in Popular Mechanics. The S-shaped wrought-iron hooks, padded in cloth or canvas, are used by a plunger to con-

They Believe in Signs.

More than 20,000 road signs for touring motorists have been erected in Ontario the last few years by the Ontario Motor League, nearly 3,000 of them during the last year.

Iceless Refrigerator.

An iceless refrigerator has been invented for automobile tourists or campers. The food container being surrounded by a water bag that is kept cool by evaporation.

If you have detachable wheels, remember that the metal parts may rust. The wheel chains a wheel cover the metal contact surfaces with grease, otherwise the detachable wheel will no longer be detachable.

BEAUTIFUL AND NOVEL WINDOW DISPLAYS SEEN

Some of the most striking window trimming that our shoppers have seen for many a month was recently and is not being shown by Leitzinger Bros. and Leonardson & Co.

At Leitzinger Bros. the west window was tastefully trimmed with women's suits and hats and the color scheme was something wonderful; the harmony was perfect and the whole made an array of beauty that is seldom seen outside of cities many times the size of Clearfield. In the east window about every style and model of Spring footwear was shown and the faultless arrangement showed off the lines in the most artistic way. Both of these windows were the work of Frank Garrahan who has been trimming Shapiro's windows for some time.

J. W. Oxley who trimmed the windows for the Leonardson store had two windows that were little short of the wonderful. The motif of the trim was dress goods and the draping was as graceful as it was clever. However Mr. Oxley has so far outdone anything that he has ever shown in his present Liberty Loan window that it eclipses everything.

Miss Columbia is shown in the center of the window with a drawn sword in one hand and in the other she is using a shield with the words "THIRD LIBERTY LOAN" inscribed thereon.

On the right and left there are pictures of Haig and Pershing and in the foreground are cartoons depicting scenes "over there" and what might take place if the Hun wins the war. The background as we would naturally expect is "Old Glory" and patriotism is not only the key-note but jumps right out of the window, so to speak.

Mr. Oxley is to be congratulated on his efforts not only as a window trimmer but for the spirit behind the window.

FROM DUBOIS EXPRESS TWENTY YEARS AGO

The Spanish-American situation is regarded as more grave by Washington today than ever before. All Americans have been ordered out of Cuba by Saturday. The government is rushing work on the boats it has under construction and arming others. General Lee is expected to leave the missing link of the Maine inquiry and that will settle the matter.

The railroad company of 51 railroads will offer their services to the government in case of necessity. The government's late report shows 6,000 men capable of bearing arms and about to military service in the country.

Oscar Anderson, a likely looking heavyweight from Denmark, has landed in this country and is now to hook up in a clash with Tom Cowler, Jack Dempsey or any other heavy who will meet him.

NOTICE TO RESIDENTS OF WOODLAND

Several new cases of small pox have developed in your town and the last victims moved freely about the town while the disease was developing. Many of the inhabitants have been exposed by contact. The condition is serious. In order to prevent a further spread of this loathsome disease it is imperative that every body gets vaccinated. Go to your physicians at once and get vaccinated. By so doing you will be free from the danger of acquiring this frightful scourge which is in your midst.

OBITUARY

LILLIAN MAY WALL

Lillian May Wall was born February 9, 1910, and passed from earth March 28, 1918. She was with us only 8 years 1 month and 19 days. She came into the world at the cost of a mother's life. How after but a few years on earth she has gone away. What has she left for us? Much, very much. How much, who can tell. This young life has directly or indirectly, touched and affected the lives of grandmother, father, brothers and sisters as well as other old and young who have come in contact with her in home and school and play and left its influence for all time.

Bright, intelligent quick of temper and quick to learn at school generous and thoughtful, especially of her grandmother surely her life has not been without its beauty and value. Soon after she got sick, Lillian told her grandmother she was going away after awhile—away off. This has seemed prophetic of her passing from earth. Her going has left an ache in our hearts.

The Transplanted Lily

nor sad in the home of thy birth,
Thou shalt never grow old, sweet,

We of the family feel the most grateful appreciation of the kindness and assistance expressed and rendered by our friends and neighbors.

Friends in need are friends, indeed.

AN OLD RECIPE TO DARKEN HAIR

Sage Tea and Sulphur Turns Gray, Faded Hair Dark and Glossy

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home which is sure and trouble some.

Many ask at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You will get a large bottle of this old time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients for about 50 cents. Everybody uses this preparation now, because no one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair as it does it so naturally and evenly. You da pen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair taking one small at and at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy and you look years younger. Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful toilet requisite. It is not merely for the hair, but for the scalp.

LETTERS FROM OUR SOLDIER BOYS

LETTER FROM ED. HEVENER

Somewhere in France

Dear Mother:
No doubt you will be very much surprised on receiving this. We are somewhere in France but are not allowed to disclose the name of the town. I certainly hope you are all well at home, as for me I can't remember of ever feeling so good in my life.

Now don't worry about me for we are taken good care of and have very good food.

It is best that we say nothing of this country over here, so I'll refrain until I get back home.

Good bye, love to all,

ED.

Willie Hopp, the San Francisco welterweight who has been attracting considerable attention in the boxing game of late, has but two fingers, and these are on different hands. Three of the digits and the thumb of each hand were lost in an accident when Hopp was a kid.

Worth Fighting For

SHALL this little girl grow up in the sort of American home we know, healthy and happy? Shall she have the advantage of living and learning in a free land, under free institutions? Shall such children develop into the Liberty-loving citizens that a free America may be proud of?

For over two hundred years Americans have fought valiantly, and died gallantly, to win for themselves and hand down to their posterity the blessings of liberty, justice, self-government and equal opportunity. This precious heritage, bought at so great a price, is now threatened.

The question which today confronts America as a nation, and you as an individual, is whether or not a free America is worth fighting for

Are American children in this and all future generations to receive unimpaired the legacy of freedom of which we are now the custodians, or shall their country be turned over boldly to the brutal, rapacious, power-mad enemy which has forced us into this war?

This question cannot be answered by word of mouth, but by deeds alone.

We dare not delay the VICTORY now.
American lives are at stake; our own safety, the safety of the whole world. If we are not to prolong the slaughter and the suffering, if we are not to risk defeat or an inconclusive peace, we must act quickly; we must put forth our every effort now.

The army is doing its part. Five hundred thousand American soldiers are in France today. There will be more tomorrow. And more the day after. We are going to send an army large enough so that when we strike, with our Allies, we can drive the German hordes back across the Rhine—so that we can win the decisive VICTORY that will make American freedom safe, and establish a just and lasting peace.

But the whole nation must take part. Our armies in France are looking to us to furnish them in ever greater abundance, the ordnance, the munitions, the supplies that will make their VICTORY possible. We must not fail them.

Life is not merely to live, but to live well, eat well, digest well, work well, sleep well, look well. What a gorgeous condition to attain, and yet how very easy. It is if one will only adopt the morning inside bath.

Poks who are accustomed to feel dull and heavy when they arise, splitting headache, stuffy from a cold, foul tongue, flat, heavy, and acid, and gives out a musty, rancid, or stale breath, and stomach can instead feel as fresh as a daisy by opening the slates of the system each morning and flushing out the whole of the internal poisonous stagnant matter.

Everyone, whether ailing, sick or well, should, each morning, before breakfast, take a glass of tea, hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, to wash from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour bile and poisonous toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the empty alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach. The action of hot water and limestone phosphate on an empty stomach is wonderfully invigorating. It cleans the blood and getting ready for a thorough flushing of all the inside organs.

The millions of people who are bothered with constipation, bilious spells, stomach trouble, rheumatism; others who have sallow skins, blood disorders and sickly complexions are urged to get a quarter pound of limestone phosphate from the drug store which will cost very little, but is sufficient to make anyone a pronounced crank on the subject of internal sanitation.

George Eliot's classic, Silas Marner, proved so popular this year that some of the Sophomores asked the privilege of dramatizing it. The best dramatization, and that used in the play, was submitted by Dorothy Williams. This will be presented in the High School auditorium Friday evening, April 12th, at eight o'clock.

LACES FOR SPRING

Afternoon Dresses and Lingerie Frocks to Be Worn.

American Loom Products Are Now
Taking the Place of Weaves That
Were Formerly Imported.

Lace afternoon dresses and lingerie frocks are to be worn this spring, according to some indications. At an exhibition held recently some of the most attractive gowns made from or in combination with American-made laces were shown.

The adaptability of the American manufacturer was here very clearly demonstrated, for the laces included most of the best known varieties—cluny, venise, net and fillet.

As to the gowns, they could honestly be called successful. One especially attractive model had a one-sided draped waist which showed the lace under and over the chiffon which was used for the gown.

Fingerie dresses are in flesh colored and pale tinted fabrics, and tinted as well as white laces are used with them—also little insects of embroidery for summer wear are the voiles and tinted voiles, with soutache braiding in patterns which are conventional in design for the most part, no matter how much ground they may cover.

For froter frocks and street wear in general, are frocks of silk jersey, some of which show a clever use of flat braid, applied closely in rows. Dark blue, taupe and black are the usual colors, and the braiding usually matches rather than contrasts with the dress. Button-up-the-back dresses, wide braided girdles and models with high collars are new or old features of this season's gowns, just as you choose to look at it.

Pongee was used for a spring suit, which was embellished with braiding and further boasted of a dotted foul-ard vest, with the conventional points in the front. The braiding ran up and down both sides of the front and around on the skirt part of the coat. In spite of all this decoration the colors matched exactly except for the white spots on the vest, and the simple lines helped to give the desired air of simplicity.

Midnight blue satin was the material chosen for a three-piece suit which was cut with a short bodied off Eton jacket and wide sleeves cut off at the wrists. The robe was used again for the top of the trousers, which were straight up and down and collarless. Cuffs and collar on the jacket wore of peacock blue, and even with this costume was a hat covered with peacock feathers.

DENOMINATIONAL HARMONY IS ON THE PROGRAM

New York, April 10. A closer unity and cooperation of the Protestant Episcopal church with other denominations during the war is likely to result from action to be taken at the annual meeting of the House of Bishops of the Episcopal church, which opened in this city today. An appeal for such unity, and especially for a joint consecration of chaplains for army and navy, is to be presented to the convention, with the indorsement of Bishop Tuttle, the presiding bishop of the Episcopal church in the United States. The appeal was signed by a hundred representatives of the principal religious bodies in America. The sponsors of the movement also suggest that possibly besides sending chaplains with full religious authorization from both the Episcopal and non-Episcopal churches, a common fund might be provided by contributions from all the churches for the equipment of every chaplain with whatever he may need for service, without regard to the particular denomination from which he may come.

The bishop in attendance at the convention, including practically all of the high prelates of the Episcopal church in the United States have been invited to attend a banquet to be given by the Episcopal church club of New York at the Waldorf-Astoria tonight in honor of the Rt. Rev. Cosmo Gordon Lang, Archbishop of York and Primate of England, who is now paying his first visit to America. Bishop Groer of the New York diocese will preside at the banquet and there will be addresses by Bishop Tuttle, President Nicholas Murray Butler of Columbia University and others.

SAILOR WITH SHIRRED BRIM

Spring hats are usually the most charming and the most simple. This sailor with a black satin crown and
the white shirred brim make an irresistible combination. The white satin
buttons on the side of the crown are
the only trimmings, and they are sufficient for the hat could not be dain-
tied.

Frisivious Hats.

With her costumes in dark colors,
the Parisienne is wearing a hat of some frivivious shade, and a soft rose
is first in favor.

These hats are made of velvet; the
material is shirred on the brim, sometimes with long silk stitches which
show plainly. The crowns are unusually high and the trimming of the simplest.

They are worn so far down on the head that they completely cover the eyebrows.

We must learn to recognize each

STOMACH UPSET?

Get at the Real Cause—Take Dr.
Edwards' Olive Tablets

That's what thousands of stomach
sufferers are doing now. Instead of taking tonics, or trying to patch up a poor digestion, they are attacking the
real cause of the ailment—clogged liver
and disordered bowels.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets arouse the liver in a soothing, healing way. When
the liver and bowels are performing their
natural functions, away goes indigestion
and stomach troubles.

If you have a bad taste in your mouth, tongue coated, appetite poor,
lazy, don't-care feeling, no ambition or
energy, troubled with undigested foods,
you should take Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a
purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. You will know them by their olive color. They do the work without causing cramps or pain.

Take one or two at bedtime for quick relief, so you can eat what you like.
At 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

CLEANING THE MEDICINE CLOSET

The medical temperance department
of the National W. C. T. U. has been
on small factor in cleaning Uncle Sam's medicine closet. The superintendent of this department, Mrs. Martin M. Ab-len of New York, thus describes the
process:

"When we started in to clean the
medicine chest of the great United States, the chest was a dreadful sight.
Whisky, port wine, sherry wine, beer to
give strength, brandy and gin for certain ailments all stood in proud array
on prominent shelves.

"To attempt to clean up such a medicine chest was a task sufficient to ap-
pell stout hearts. But a few brave souls said the task should be done, and
gradually, surely, the cleaning has been going on. Some of the best physicians
of the country aided in the task. Soon
the whisky bottle for the consumptive
was thrown away, then the brandy for the typhoid fever patient. Beer and wine were swept off the shelf by the aid of athletes who had proved that
these drinks weaken instead of giving strength. Whisky for pneumonia was
the next to go, and finally the American Medical association swept off the last
remaining bottle of alcohol as unnecessary in the treatment of any disease."

GENERAL PERSHING ON PROHIBITION.

In an address before the National
W. C. T. U. convention, Dr. Anna
Howard Shaw gave direct testimony
as to the attitude of General Pershing
on prohibition.

"I had the pleasure of meeting this
great hero last spring in San Antonio, Texas," she said. "The citizens gave me a banquet, and among the honored
guests was General Pershing. When he was called on from town, they great
leader of the army stood up and pronounced himself a confirmed believer
in the enfranchisement of women, and
in prohibition. After he had taken
his seat and the program had been concluded, General Pershing said to
by some of his Texas friends. 'Prohibition is an unpopular subject in Texas. We are not in favor of it,'
the general replied. 'So long as I am at the head of the army I shall
speak of prohibition.' But go slow
in this matter," they said. General
Pershing responded, 'I shall not go
slow on prohibition, for I know what is the greatest foe to my men, greater
even than the bullets of the enemy.'"

Carl A. Anderson of Cooper town ship transacted business at the county seat yesterday.

FAMOUS HOTEL AT BEDFORD IS SOLD

Bedford, April 6.—Frederick A.
Metzger and Dr. L. D. Blackwelder,
two prominent Bedford business men,
this week purchased from Mrs. Mary
E. Alsip and H. O. Hafer the old Bedford House, known as a famous hostel for many years and which, in its earlier days, entertained such famous personages as President George Washington, President James Buchanan, and Captain John Brown, an abolitionist. The latter was a guest
there shortly before the beginning of the Civil War and was on his way, by
"underground route" to Harper's Ferry. The hotel had been owned since the death of the proprietor, Charles
Hafer, several years ago.

It was erected in 1771 by the Rev.
William Smith, pastor of St. Peter's
Church, Philadelphia, who was first
provost and founder of the University
of Pennsylvania and founder of the town of Huntingdon. The old Franklin
stoves and four English hand-carved
mantels, of quaint design and fine
workmanship, are still in place.

Messrs. Metzger and Blackwelder
have not made public their intentions
regarding the future but they have offered the building for the use of the army men driving government trucks
over the Highway, the local Emergency Aid to be in charge.

It is no easy matter to find a location for the proposed Willard-Pullon
match, since the limit for boxing
bouts ranges from six to fifteen
rounds in nearly all states where the game is permitted.
